Suffolk County Legislature Presiding Officer William J. Lindsay congratulated Steven Francis Wachter on achieving the Boy Scout's highest rank of Eagle Scout at Saint John's Lutheran Church in Sayville on Friday, June 3. Steven earned the rank of Eagle Scout for his project involving the installation of a brick paver path at the Long Island Maritime Museum in West Sayville. Steven, with his friends and fellow scouts, raised over 1,000 dollars for the project, which required over two-hundred and fifty hours to complete.

Steven Wachter has been a seven-year member of the Boy Scouts of America, and he was selected by the other scouts in the troop to become Senior Patrol Leader from September 2009 until August 2010. Steven is extremely involved at Sayville High School, and he has volunteered over fifty hours of community service.

"Steven, I congratulate you on being awarded the Boy Scout's highest rank of Eagle Scout," said Presiding Officer Lindsay. "As Presiding Officer, I take great pride in our county museum and I am grateful for your improvements to the grounds of the Long Island Maritime Museum. Your project will attract more visitors and enhance our handicap accessible institution, and I want to thank you for all of your fine efforts. I extend to you my best wishes as you continue your journey."
